Pacific Northwest Floods Bring Five Deaths, Big Losses

Oregon, Washington, Idaho Are Inundated and Thousands Are Homeless

(By The Associated Press)
Vast lowlands areas of Oregon, Washington and Idaho were inundated today as flooding rivers swept through widely scattered valleys of the Pacific northwest states.

Five persons have drowned in Oregon, where damage will be in millions of dollars.

The populous middle Willamette valley of Oregon braced for crests of six to eight feet above flood stage as the Willamette river receded from upper valley sectors where 2,000 are still homeless near Eugene.

Rich farmlands and the cities of Corvallis, Albany and Salem, the state capital of Oregon, face the cresting floods today and tomorrow on top of rising waters that already have severed high-ways driven from a veterans' village.

In North Idaho, students of the University of Idaho at Moscow were driven from a veterans' village. At Princeton, the water was two feet deep in the main street last night. Cattlemen near Potlatch were driving livestock out of the valley.

Elberton, Wash., was isolated when a bridge was flooded over. At Pullman, Wash., all male students of Washington State College were working on dikes.

Celuch's Condition Reported as 'Good'

Mid-Thigh Amputation Is Made Upon Bus Driver's Leg

The "post-operative" condition of Paul Celuch, 40, of 25 O'Neil street, bus driver who was critically injured at Fleischmanns Tuesday, was described today as "good" at the Margaretville Hospital where his left leg was amputated Wednesday night.

Dr. William S. Rush of this city reported today that the operation was performed early last night and that the leg was amputated at "mid-thigh." Many transfusions were necessary, he said.

The leg was badly mangled when the bus which Celuch was driving on Route 28 was in collision with a milk truck, owned by T. I. McCormick of New York, and operated by James Young, 47, of New York.

The condition of Jacqueline Loomis, 15, of Phoenix, who was also seriously injured in the accident, was described today as "satisfactory." She suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and a fracture of the arm. Celuch also sustained a fractured arm, and four other passengers were less seriously injured.

The bus involved in the accident, one of the Kingston-Pine Hill Bus Corp., was carrying children from the Phoenix area to school in Margaretville.

The bus driver is under the general care of Dr. Abraham Weinberg of Margaretville.

Governor Requests 26-Million Fund To Meet Expenses

Approval of Omnibus Bill Is Expected Next Week: Democrats Give Views

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—Governor Dewey asked the Legislature today to make deficiency appropriations of $26,217,900 to meet skyrocketing operating expenses for the remainder of the fiscal year ending March 31.

The request, contained in an omnibus bill submitted for expected approval next week, underscored Governor Dewey's warning in his annual message yesterday that inflation was pushing state government costs up to a dangerous level.

Meanwhile the governor's charge that President Truman is responsible for the high cost of living touched off an explosion of Democratic charges that the Dewey message was a campaign speech for the Republican presidential nomination.

An administration source predicted all major legislation proposed by Dewey would be enacted by the Republican-dominated Legislature.

Senate and assembly G.O.P. chiefs backed up Dewey's stand against further state aid to municipalities.

The fight for repeal or drastic alteration of the permit-to-tax program drew both Republicans and Democrats into one of the major issues of the session. But Dewey forces said the core of the law would not be changed.

Some Republican legislators privately expressed concern over the administration's plan to convert Syracuse University into a state university. They withheld public comment pending a formal presentation of the plan.

Democratic legislators are holding out for a $5,000 salary for rank and file members of the Senate and Assembly, but upstate Republican pressure is expected to result in a final scaling down of Continued on Page Twenty-two

Fire Ruins Portion of Hurd Plant

Clintondale Cold Storage Unit Contained About 35,000 Bushels of Apples

Loss Is High
Damage, Unofficially, Is Set at $50,000 to $100,000

Fire which was discovered about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night destroyed the upper portion of the M. G. Hurd & Sons cold storage plant and packing house on the New Paltz road at Clintondale. Volunteer firemen from five companies in the area remained at the scene all night and succeeded in extinguishing the fire by about 6 a. m. today.

Melvin Hurd, a son of the owner, Melford G. Hurd, said it would be impossible to determine the extent of the damage until about 35,000 bushels of apples in the plant were inspected. He said that he believed most of the apples would be undamaged, because they were stored on the ground floor and the fire was above them.

Unofficial estimates of damage made by firemen and employees of the Hurd plant ranged from $50,000 to $100,000. The building and part of the contents were insured, according to Mrs. Melvin Hurd.

Discovered by Son

Fire was discovered by another son, Jerome, about 8:30 p. m., in the second story at the north end of the plant. A telephone alarm was sent to the Clintondale fire department. Stewart Mosher, driver of the Clintondale engine, reported that on arrival of the department, the entire roof of the structure was blazing.

Clintondale Fire Chief Russell Rhodes immediately sent a call to the fire dispatcher's office in Kingston for assistance, the call being received at 8:50 p. m. Under the mutual aid plan, fire departments from New Paltz, Modena, and Gardiner went to the aid of the Clintondale department.

The Highland Fire Department also dispatched an engine and men to the fire, at the request of Chief Rhodes.

During the night, the Plattkill Fire Company covered for the Mod.

Auto Licenses Are Going Slow for '48

Indications Are That Late Applicants Are Due to Stand in Line

It was announced at the office of the Motor Vehicle Bureau this morning that applicants for 1948 licenses were slow in getting their new plates, and the situation forecasts long lines and crowded quarters as the deadline approaches.

"Now is the time for car owners to get their new plates in order to avoid the rush and confusion that is bound to occur later," said Edgar J. Dempsey, who is in charge of the office.

In the way of being helpful to applicants pressed for time, he suggested that they have their 1947 stubs attached to this year's blanks when they approach the windows. "There's bound to be a waste of time," Secretary Dempsey said, "when applicants have to hunt through their purses or wallets for the stubs in the case of a number of instances."

All car owners must have their 1948 plates by February 1, or cease running their autos.

Jews Plan New Attack on Jaffa, 5 More Are Dead

Arabs Reinforce Gate Upon Hearing Drive Being Planned in Old Walled City

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, Jan. 8 (AP)—Five more persons died in scattered violence throughout Palestine today and in Jerusalem the Jaffa gate bristled with Arab armament. Rumors spread that a new Jewish attack would be launched against the gate.

Seven Jews liberated from a hospital one of their comrades who was wounded and captured yesterday after Jews made an armored car attack on the Jaffa gate which cost the lives of 17 Arabs and three Jews.

Arabs began arming the gate after the rumor spread that four British armored cars had been stolen, possibly for a new onslaught on the old walled city. An Arab source said several hundred armed Arabs were massed at the gate, "ready to repel attacks." Roadblocks were augmented and Sten guns and rifles were made ready upon the walls.

Snipers Active

Heavy sniper fire was heard frequently in the area, apparently a continuation of the duel between Arabs and some 1,500 Jews besieged inside the old city.

A British constable was shot to death in Hebron.

At Holon, in the Tel Aviv area, Jewish sources said one Jew was killed by gunfire. In Jerusalem, a Jew was killed inside the British Security Zone while he was waiting for a bus; another Jew was killed by an Arab crowd near the Montefiore quarter, and a guest in a coffee house was shot to death by two young men believed to be Jews.

The violence of the past few days, in which more than 50 persons were killed and about 200 injured, seemed likely to damage the chances of Hagana, the Jewish militia, of becoming the force designated by the United Nations to guard partition. Hagana has admitted carrying out at least one bombing.

The escape of the young Jew captured after the Jaffa gate attack was effected by Jews who, police said, walked into the Red Shield Clinic and carried the wounded man away, covering their retreat with revolvers.

The wounded man was identified by police as Uri Cohen, 20, known and wanted as a member of the "Irgun Zvai Leumi," Jewish underground organization. A constable had been assigned to guard him, but police officials declined to say where the guard was at the time of the delivery.

Hit Trying to Escape

Cohen was hit yesterday by a police fusillade when he leaped from a stolen armored car with which the Jews had bombed Jaffa gate.

Three of Cohen's companions were killed and two captured as they tried to flee with him after wrecking the armored car.

The toll of deaths in Palestine since the United Nations partition decision last November 29 soared to 627 as Arabs struck back in retaliation for the Jaffa gate attack, where 17 Arabs were slain and 38 Arabs and two British policemen injured.

Martin Starts Drive For Petition on Keeping Bus Line

Requests 12th Ward Folk to Send Cards to Him Asking P.S.C. to Favor Line

Alderman James E. Martin has started a concentrated drive for retaining the Fairview Lucas avenue bus service in the 12th Ward.

"I don't know how my people will go to business, do their shopping and the children be accommodated with transportation for attending school," said the Republican floor leader of the Common Council today in reference to discontinuance of the bus line on January 15.

"The residents of our ward who use the bus are pretty much upset," he told a reporter, "and it is my intention to take immediate action for retaining the service."

Rethier Sues Roosa, Alleges Assault

Attack, Complaint Says, Took Place in 1947 Outside Tavern

Alleging that he was the victim of an unprovoked assault, Henri Rethier, proprietor of Les Pompiers at Lake Katrine, has brought an action in Supreme Court to recover $15,000 damages from Auley C. Roosa of Lake Katrine whom plaintiff alleges committed the assault. Trial was commenced today before Justice Francis Bergan. Rethier alleges that on the evening of March 18, 1947 he stopped on his way home from Kingston at Al's Tavern on the Saugerties road for a drink. That when he entered the tap room he saw Roosa there and that he attempted to avoid Roosa.

Both agree that for some time there had been ill-feeling between the two parties. Rethier claims that in order to avoid Roosa he went to the fur end of the bar but that when Roosa, whom he charges had been drinking considerably, saw him he asked him to take a drink and when Rethier declined there was a threat made. Plaintiff claims he was attacked by Roosa as he was leaving the place after the proprietor had refused to serve him because of his alleged drunkenness.

Chris J. Flanagan, counsel for plaintiff, in his opening to the jury, said that it would be shown that Roosa had been drinking heavily and that as Rethier left the tap room Roosa struck him from the rear and that the plaintiff in a "groggy" state then attempted to get in his car and drive away. This was prevented when Roosa entered the car and continued to attack Rethier. The attack was continued, plaintiff claims, when he left the car and he alleges that he was Continued on Page Ten

Morgenthau Trading to Be Examined, Senator Says

Taft Says Banks' Plan Is Better
Former Treasury Head's Name Appears on New List of Traders

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—A Senate committee investigating grain speculation is going to look into trading activities of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., former secretary of treasury, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today.

Ferguson told reporters the appropriations subcommittee which he heads at least will want to know the extent of Morgenthau's grain dealings and whether they extend back to the time he was in the cabinet.

Morgenthau's name appeared on a new list of corn traders made public by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

Morgenthau acknowledged that he owned 195,000 bushels of corn futures last June 30, but he said in a statement in New York that he lost money.

"I don't know whether we will call him down here," Ferguson said, "but we will ask him for information as to his trading and whether it might go back to the time he was secretary of the treasury."

Ferguson also said Secretary Anderson will be recalled to testify and that Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, President Truman's personal physician, has been asked to appear at an open hearing tomorrow.

The committee has not yet determined when it will recall Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to Secretary of the Army Royall, Ferguson said, adding that "his account is quite complicated."

The senators reopened their secret inquiry into Pauley's commodity trading today.

Decrease under previous day $60,348,712.51. Gold assets $22,758,992,886.84.

"I feel very confident that this is better than any attempt by the government to say what is a good loan and what is a bad loan, what is speculative and what is sound."

Action of this kind taken by the bankers themselves is one of the best means of heading off the movement for more government control. I wish you every success in your endeavor."

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—Republicans pinned a political "left-winger" label on President Truman today as they set out to counter his state of the union proposals with their own laws-making program in preparation for next November's ballot battles.

But Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, replied that the President has offered "a business-like, practical program of progressive liberalism."

There Can Not Be Two Secretaries of State, He Tells Congress in Statement

Expects No Cuts to Be Made in Outlay of $6,800,000,000

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall appealed to Congress today for an adequate, prompt and effectively administered European aid program and bluntly challenged the lawmakers: "Either undertake to meet the requirements of the problem or don't undertake it at all."

At the same time the soldier-turned-diplomat rejected outright the Republican backed proposal to create a new government corporation to administer the projected aid program. He called for a single administrator responsible to the President and working in harmony with the Secretary of State on foreign policy questions.

"There cannot be two secretaries of state," Marshall asserted. The man whose name designates the "Marshall Plan" for European recovery appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as the first of more than a dozen high officials assigned to present the Democratic administration's case to the Republican Congress for a four-year multi-billion dollar program of assistance to western Europe.

Of the need for such aid, Marshall declared: "Dollars will not save the world—but the world today cannot be saved without dollars."

The cabinet officer's briskly written, 5,500-word statement sketched the arguments for the huge project, unprecedented in America's peace-time history, told how and why he thinks it should work, why he considers it necessary, and what it ought to cost.

He described the $6,800,000,000, which President Truman has asked for the first 15 months of the plan, as a precision figure which "does not represent a generous estimate of requirements. It is not, he said, an 'asking figure' based on expected cuts by Congress."

Aid in the full amount, Marshall declared, is required "to initiate a program of genuine recovery and to take both Europe and this nation out of the blind alley of mere continuing relief."

As for the whole undertaking, the secretary reiterated earlier estimates that the program must be between $15,100,000,000 and $17,800,000,000. But he said "the overall cost is not capable of precise determination so far in advance."

"Three principles," Marshall said, "should determine the amount and timing of our aid. It must be adequate. It must be prompt. It must be effectively applied."

On the question of providing sufficient funds to do the job, he told the lawmakers that the first appropriation should be enough to get the program under way "on a broad, sound basis and not in a piecemeal manner."

"A 'no-holds-barred' program," he added, "would involve a wastage of our resources with an ineffective result. Either undertake to meet the requirements of the problem or don't undertake it at all."

Serious Deterioration
On the question of time, Marshall said, "unless the program can be placed in operation on or soon after April first, there will be a serious deterioration in some of the basic conditions upon which the whole project is predicated."

In connection with the problem of cost, Marshall gave this reply to whether the American people can bear the costs and make the "sacrifice" he considers necessary to succeed:

"A world which continues nearly half-poor will create conditions for constantly mounting expenditures for defense. This program should be viewed as an investment in peace. In those terms, the cost is low."

Marshall appealed to his Congressional audience not to attach strings to the aid beyond seeing that the funds and goods are "effectively used to promote recovery and not diverted to other

Police Wound 4 Reds in Brazilian Rioting Dueto Attempt to Print Newspapers Over Ban

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 8 (AP)—Police fought today with Communists attempting to publish an edition of their newspaper in the wake of congressional action withdrawing the ban against printing from the Brazilian Communist party.

Four Communists were wounded. Police broke into the printing plant, using tear gas bombs and machine guns, when workers refused to halt presses printing an edition covering the action by the Chamber of Deputies last night stripping Brazilian Communists, the largest Communist party in the Western Hemisphere, of all elective posts.

The edition was being printed in the plant formerly used by the Communist newspaper Tribuna Popular, which was suspended for its attacks on the government during the debate on the bill to oust Communist legislators.

The Chamber of Deputies enacted, and President Getulio Vargas immediately signed last night, a law removing all Communists from elective posts throughout the nation. Those affected included a senator, 14 deputies, 60 members of state legislatures and 18 members of the Rio De Janeiro City Council. The Senate had passed the bill previously.

The Communist party itself, which claims from 180,000 to 200,000 members and which polled about 800,000 votes in state and local elections last January, was outlawed on May 7 by a three to two ruling of the Supreme Electoral Tribunal. That ruling did not affect the status of office holders previously elected.

Brazil broke off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union on Oct. 21 because of articles in the Russian press attacking the president and the Brazilian army.

The Chamber of Deputies approved the new law, 181 to 74, at the end of one of the most turbulent legislative sessions in Brazilian history.

Three deputies pulled guns on Communists in the chamber but did not fire. Fist fights broke out. Police clashed with mobs inside the chamber, and there was such tur-

Near Relative Spoils Silver Wedding Occasion

Copenhagen (AP)—A farmer and his wife in the Danish village of Ulslev sat waiting for flowers and gifts on their silver wedding anniversary, but only a few closest members of the family appeared, bringing no gifts.

On the following day they learned that the local paper had had an advertisement announcing that the couple wanted their anniversary "passed over in silence." Police found the advertisement had been inserted by a near relative who was at odds with the farmer over a division of an inheritance.

Bills Proposed in Legislature

By HARRY O'DONNELL
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—A Republican legislator challenged Governor Dewey today to support a proposal designed to keep Communists, Fascists and "subversives" out of public service in New York by requiring a loyalty oath.

Senator Fred A. Young of Lowville introduced a proposed constitutional amendment and other legislation establishing the loyalty oath for public officers and employees, both state and local.

The civil servants would be required to swear they were not members of or sympathetic to organizations and movements.

"Designated by the attorney general of the United States as Communist, Fascist or subversive" or those seeking to alter the form of federal or state government by "unconstitutional means."

Executive and judicial officials and legislators would be required to take the oath "before they enter upon their duties." Failure of employees, including laborers, to take the oath would "terminate" their employment.

The Lowville legislator said he had not consulted administration leaders before introducing the measures, but added:

"The governor does not like Communists. If he's consistent he should support this program."

"If it's good for Washington, it should be good here."

Reliable sources indicated, however, Dewey probably would not urge enactment of the legislation because of difficulty in defining by statute what constitutes a subversive person or sympathizer.

Young said the oath, if adopted, would apply to present officers and employees as well as those seeking to enter public service. There have been no accusations made against state employees, however, questioning their loyalty to the nation.

Two administration measures were among 221 proposals dropped into the hopper on opening day, compared to 170 last year.

They would:

Eliminate the requirement that otherwise qualified applicants for the state veterans' bonus must be living in New York at the time of application. (This is a proposed constitutional amendment that could not become effective for at least two years if approved by the 1948 Legislature.)

Extend until March 31, 1949, the state program to finance temporary housing for veterans as well as emergency housing and classroom facilities at colleges, chiefly to accommodate ex-servicemen.

The bill carried no appropriation. The 1947 Legislature appropriated $30,000,000, boosting to $69,800,000 total expenditures for this program since 1945.

The bonus amendment was introduced by Senator Charles O. Burney, Buffalo Republican, and the emergency housing extension by Senator MacNeil Mitchell, New York city Republican.

Other bills would:

Fixing minimum payments of $75 per pupil in state aid for education to school districts. (Senator Pliny Williamson, R-Westchester.)

Extend unemployment insurance benefits to local government employees. (Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson, R-Westchester.)

Authorize New York city to enact local eviction and rent control laws. (Senator Irwin Pakula and Assemblyman B. Mallory Stephens, New York city Republican.)

Include garages and parking lots under provisions of the state commercial rent control law which is effective in New York city only (Assemblyman Richard M. Goldwater, D-Bronx.)

Makes Way Through 3 States in Prison Dress

Toledo, O., Jan. 8 (AP)—A 22-year-old section hand from Kentucky told police today he traveled through West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky dressed in "stripes" after escaping Sept. 1 from the Moundsville, W. Va., prison.

Detective Edward Cahill identified him as Fred Diles, of Martinsville, Ky.

Cahill said Diles told this story: He slipped out of the West Virginia institution with a companion, walked through Moundsville streets in his prison uniform with white vertical stripes and numbers, boarded a bus, rode 60 miles on it, and then took another bus to Ohio.

He went to his home in Kentucky, stole some clothes from his brother and went to Gibsonburg, O., as a section hand. Yesterday, however, he saw his brother apply for a job with the gang, and feeling recognition was near, came to Toledo and surrendered.

Cahill quoted Diles as saying he has 16 months left to serve of a five-year term for unarmed robbery.

Philadelphia, Jan. 8 (AP)—The omission of a word from an indictment opened an avenue of escape for 31-year-old Louis D'Andrea from conviction in U. S.

HERE'S WHY YOU SHOULD USE 15% LESS HEATING OIL THIS WINTER

PRINTED IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST
BY STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW JERSEY

The heating oil supply situation is critical. A Petroleum Industry Committee appointed by U. S. Senator C. W. Tobey of New Hampshire recently reported that the need for heating oil may exceed the supply by as much as 15% this winter. This means you may get up to 15% less oil than you would normally use during January, February and March.

There are several reasons for this situation:

1. So far this season the weather on the Atlantic Seaboard has been an average of approximately 25% colder than last year.
2. There has been a 22% increase in the number of heating oil users.
3. Total demand for all petroleum products today exceeds even the peak war year by 8.3%.
4. Transportation by rail, truck and tanker is insufficient.

5. Despite an outstanding production record by the steel industry, record peacetime demands have resulted in hampering expansion of petroleum industry producing, refining and distributing facilities.

While oil industry production is at the highest level in history, and every effort is being made to get heating oil distributed as fast and as fairly as possible, every homeowner must face this fact: THE MOST IMPORTANT THING YOU CAN DO TO SAVE YOURSELF AND OTHER FUEL OIL USERS FROM REAL HARDSHIP IS TO REDUCE OIL CONSUMPTION AT LEAST 15% DURING THE NEXT THREE MONTHS—JANUARY, FEBRUARY and MARCH. This can be done through the full and unselfish cooperation of every heating oil user—and the means to do it are listed in the panel below. These are simple conservation steps. Followed by everybody, they can meet this emergency and see every home through the winter without serious discomfort.

OIL USERS: Here's what you can do to save your 15%!

1. Keep daytime house temperature at 68 degrees. Set thermostat down to 60 degrees or lower at night.
2. Set thermostat at 60 degrees or lower when away from home.
3. Turn off heat in unused rooms, sunporches and garages.
4. Close bedroom doors at night to avoid cooling the rest of the house.
5. Install storm doors and windows, and use adequate weatherstripping.
6. Keep vents and fireplace flues closed when not in use.
7. Turn off heat and close doors when airing rooms.
8. Use your fireplace whenever possible.
9. Consider immediate insulation for your house.
10. Send for our helpful FREE BOOK-LET, "20 Ways to Save Money on Home Heating"—yours for the asking. Write Mr. F. H. Skehan, 50 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, N. Y.

You won't experience any real discomfort or hardship in following these suggestions—and they can make the difference between some heat for all or no heat for many.

HELPING EACH OTHER

Something very good for Europe's children could come out of an idea put forth by Chester Bowles, chairman of the U.N. Appeal for Children Advisory Committee. Mr. Bowles and his wife, who is a social worker, are to arrive in Europe in mid-January to study aid for European children on the basis of the children helping each other as much as possible. Bowles would like to see a children's international congress assembled under the U.N., where children, so long victims of war and political impacts, could express what they think are their needs.

With careful direction by responsible adults a real international comradeship could be built up among the young of the world that would make wars difficult among them when they reach maturity. The present aim is to have committees set up in many countries where citizens in whole communities would donate a day's earnings or their equivalent to children's needs. The children would be given an active part in such a scheme.

A step toward children's international friendship was realized in the Friendship Train. American boys and girls felt very close to the French and Italian children whom their gifts were aiding, as they brought their offerings to this train. If those same donors could meet the recipients of their gifts, seeds for future good will would be planted. The harvest a few years hence would be the fostering of peace among the nations represented.

President Truman is willing to confer with Stalin on the disputes that now divide them. If Stalin does not accept, perhaps his name should be changed to Stalin'. In fact, Stalin' is just what the whole Politburo is doing now—just waiting around for the great American capitalist financial collapse. We could win that round by having sense enough not to let ourselves have a depression.

TRAINING DIPLOMAT

With the United States now playing a leading part in the world, it becomes increasingly necessary that colleges offer courses both on the undergraduate and the graduate level in international affairs. According to Oliver C. Carmichael, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, colleges recognize their obligations in this direction, but few are equipped to meet them.

Extra funds will be needed for faculty travel and training, as well as for foreign exchange scholarships. The educator thinks it will be 10 years before such training can be offered. This seems a long time to wait until young Americans can be trained to represent their country in foreign posts.

The matter is of interest to laymen as well as educators. State department and consular employees have in the past gone out in many instances ignorant of the culture, language and history of the countries to which they have been sent. The day is gone for Americans thus to appear on the world stage so ill-prepared to speak their lines.

Steps should be taken to speed up the training opportunities for those wanting careers in international affairs. Some institutions are already preparing students for such work. Others may well consider initiating requisite courses.

Henry Wallace seems to have discovered early in his career the advantage of being able to annoy people and get a lot of fun out of it, instead of the opposite procedure.

SAUCERS AND SCIENTISTS

If you see a strange object in the heavens, don't expect scientists to take much interest. Dr. C. C. Wylie of the University of Iowa told the American Association for the Advancement of Science at their December meeting that it is almost impossible to find the real facts about such reports. The flying saucers of last summer are an example. Some were hallucinations, some hoaxes, and the rest had a natural and simple explanation. Yet a lot of people worried about them. Not the scientists, however. And hence-

KNOW-NOTHING DEPARTMENT

The American taxpayer spends money on the State Department in the hope that it will know something about its business, which is foreign affairs. But usually when a State Department official appears before a Congressional Committee, he admits to knowing nothing. The question is whether this ignorance is a pose or a reality. It might be a posed reality.

Here is an excellent example of their style. W. W. Butterworth is chief of the Far Eastern Division of the State Department. This was the colloquy:

"Chairman Bridges. To what extent is Russia siding the Communists in China?"

"Mr. Butterworth. That is a question that is not susceptible to factual proof."

"Chairman Bridges. What is your judgment on it?"

"Mr. Butterworth. When, you see, a few days before the end of the Japanese War, Russia invaded Manchuria, the Russian Army captured at that time and upon surrender of the Japanese Army in Manchuria, substantial quantities of arms. When the Russian troops withdrew, the Chinese Communists in that area appeared with Japanese arms in very substantial quantities. Those are the facts known to us."

"Chairman Bridges. Where did they get those Japanese arms?"

"Mr. Butterworth. Well, we were not there nor were our consular or diplomatic representatives present, so that we had not means of ascertaining factually what transpired."

"Chairman Bridges. Where could they have come from?"

"Mr. Butterworth. Well, the statements are made that they were acquired as 'abandoned arms.'"

"Chairman Bridges. Do you subscribe to that?"

"Mr. Butterworth. I neither subscribe nor do not subscribe. Those were the facts, and the real important fact is that the Chinese Communists have the arms."

Don't we have intelligence officers, agents, spies, whatever you choose to call them, to find out where and how the Chinese Communists got those arms? As a matter of fact, Soviet Russia has been supporting their Chinese armed forces since 1927, and before that in 1925, they entered into a supply contract with Dr. Sun Yat-sen. Is there nobody in the State Department that knows anything?

Again, this colloquy takes place:

"Senator Reed. Well, the natural assumption in the case of these arms that were found in the Communist hands is that they were taken with the acquiescence, at least, of the Russians."

"Mr. Butterworth. Yes, sir."

"Senator Reed. I have tried to phrase that in a way that you could say 'yes' to."

"Chairman Bridges. If you are the head of the Office of Far Eastern Affairs of the State Department in charge of China, you must have an opinion; certainly, you cannot hold that position unless you have an opinion as to whether the Communists are being aided by Russia, or not?"

"Mr. Butterworth. I quite agree with the Senator in the assumption that they must have been taken at least with the acquiescence of the Russian authorities."

"Chairman Bridges. And that means, if that is true, that the Russians are aiding the Chinese Communists."

"Mr. Butterworth. Certainly at that time, if that assumption is correct, they did."

"Chairman Bridges. You have just said that it was true. You accepted Senator Reed's statement."

"Mr. Butterworth. Yes, sir."

Butterworth could have said that "yes" in the first place without all that beating around the bush. But then he would not have been a diplomat. Yes, the Russians gave the Japanese arms to the Chinese Communists.

Sensor Bridges made my point clearer than I do when he said to Mr. Butterworth:

"By the way, this morning when I made the statement to you that we should have somebody in the State Department willing to tell the facts here, that was not saying that what you told us was not false. It was that I did not think you told us you knew the whole truth."

To this Butterworth replied that he loved the truth so dearly that he avoided assumptions. Then this conversation took place:

"Chairman Bridges. But you do know that it is common knowledge among Chinese generally, and people who travel there, that this is a fact?"

"Mr. Butterworth. That is the common assumption and has not been challenged authoritatively."

You see, you get nowhere. A State Department employee seems to be trained to hem and haw, to hedge, to trim.

EMOTIONS CAUSE SKIN AILMENTS

Telling a patient that his symptoms—rapid heart beat, cough, indigestion, diarrhoea—are due to nervousness or run-down condition of the nervous system, readily is believed by most of us because we know it to be true with ourselves and others. But telling a patient that his skin ailments are due to nervous tension, is not so readily believed yet that the emotions can cause skin symptoms is just as true as it is concerning indigestion, diarrhoea, frequent heart beat, and other symptoms.

We can all remember some of the exciting or anxious moments in our lives and how perspiration came out on our forehead and hands, we have blushed with shame or blanching with fear.

In the "British Journal of Dermatology," Dr. P. Klaber points out that the emotions readily affect the skin through the nerves, blood vessels and chemical routes. Anxiety, for instance, may cause profuse sweating. "People who perspire easily are characteristically over-anxious. The fear of offending by perspiration leads to embarrassment which increases the sweating."

Emotional individuals often have tiny blisters on hands and feet which greatly resemble the tiny blisters in ringworm of the feet. Eczema is another skin disease often caused by nervousness and emotional disturbances. We are all familiar with urticaria (hives), so often caused by certain foods—strawberries, wheat, egg. These same skin symptoms can be caused by the emotions.

Fatigue and worry often are forerunners of boils and styes, and the emotions are blamed for causing psoriasis—the white patches of silvery scales which appear on the skin.

Other skin conditions attributed to the emotions are fever blisters about the mouth and acne—pimples.

Thus, acquiring calmness of spirit, through our religion or philosophy of life helps all our organs and body processes.

After all, the skin is the largest and heaviest organ of the human body—even heavier than the liver.

'No, No, Boys! Not That!'

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Last July 10, Judge Edward Conger, of the United States Court of the Southern (Manhattan) District of New York, wrote a decision and opinion in favor of Isidor Lipschutz, of Belgium, admitting him to citizenship in the United States. Judge Conger wrote this document, ending a long and closely contested case, while he was absent from New York on his vacation. Lipschutz is a propagandist and was responsible for a program of private espionage on American citizens while he was still an alien charged with moral turpitude. He was treasurer and the principal financial backer of the espionage group known as the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League of New York. One Richard Rollins, formerly Isadore Rollins, who called himself a colonel, wrote in his book "I Find Treason" that in March, 1939, this league appointed him its "national director of investigation" with authority to run his "department" exactly as he thought best. In the same book Rollins, or Rollberg, confessed to rifling a private office and to stealing.

"The league," he said, "was about to develop a large department of investigation."

Judge Conger is a Roosevelt appointee and was a New Dealer in politics prior to his elevation to the bench. He observed in his opinion that Lipschutz entered the United States on May 30, 1938, and petitioned for citizenship on August 22, 1944.

The judge further said, "the question of petitioner's eligibility as a citizen (S.I.C.) has been pending for a long time."

That is to say, the Immigration and Naturalization Service had opposed the immigrant's application on the contention that he was a morally degraded man and, by the standards recognized by our laws, morally unfit for citizenship.

The fact that he was not a citizen and was, in a manner of speaking, on probation like a first-termer, did not deter Lipschutz from interfering vigorously in the intimate business of our national household. He chuckled his weight about, cultivated political connections in Washington and not only took part in the maintenance of the privately operated secret service of the anti-Nazi League but became a director and a dominating spirit of a political propaganda agency called the Society for the Prevention of World War III. This society's propaganda follows the Morgenthau formula for the permanent reduction of the German nation to an agrarian economy and the degradation of its people to the status of clods in sabots. Its program is consistent with the Soviet intentions and it is violently intolerant of the forgiving charity and political view of some organizations of Catholics and Protestants toward the German people.

Its "advisory council" includes many names listed in the official reports to Congress of the Dies and Thomas Committees on Un-American Activities.

Throughout years of political activity of this kind, Lipschutz was at liberty and had facilities to pry into the private affairs of native Americans and their societies of patriotic and other character, although he could not even vote. Strangely, although Judge Conger's writing is supposed to be an opinion, close examination reveals that it is not an opinion at all. ## Stiles Testifies, Lawyers Wrangle, Dates Are Recalled

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—Amid frequent wrangling between rival attorneys, James E. Stiles, publisher of the Nassau Daily Review-Star, Rockville Center, testified for five hours yesterday before Peter F. Ward, trial examiner of the National Labor Relations Board, regarding negotiations with the A.F.L. International Typographical Union prior to a work stoppage last November which affected 33 employees of the newspaper.

Stiles remained unruffled throughout his testimony as Jerome I. Macht, attorney for the N.L.R.B., Godfrey P. Schmidt, attorney for the Daily Review Corporation, and Alan F. Perl, I.T.O. counsel, quarreled bitterly that Macht at one point asked the trial examiner to admonish Perl for his remarks about the opposing lawyers.

The trial examiner rejected the request, saying that he would not admonish Perl any more than he would Macht, for "Indulging in personalities."

The hearing is based on the newspaper's complaint that the union and its affiliate, Nassau County Typographical Union No. 915, had engaged in unfair labor practices under the Taft-Hartley Act and refused to bargain collectively in good faith.

Perl concentrated on re-examining Stiles on his testimony in previous hearings. The publisher recalled specific dates regarding his negotiations with union representatives, but said:

"It is impossible for me to remember every detail of these transactions over such a long period of time."

Perl sought to determine how friendly personal relations were between the publisher and his A.F.L. employees, and referred to a negotiation meeting last July 17. "How did that meeting break up?" Perl asked.

"I don't think it lasted more than 15 or 20 minutes," Stiles replied.

The publisher added that local union representatives said they would recommend that Stiles propose for a new contract be accepted by the I.T.U.

Perl then asked if they had parted in a friendly fashion and if they had shaken hands.

"I don't recall if we did or did not shake hands," Stiles said. Stiles testified that he had John A. Byrnes, president of the Freeport Local of the I.T.U., and Robert C. Kirkpatrick, I.T.U. International representative, that when the union contract had been given him to sign, he would not sign the contract with its "escape clause until reviewed by our labor expert and by our attorney."

The "escape clause" in the contract read as follows:

"If any part of this agreement is declared illegal or inoperative by any agency or court, this entire agreement shall thereupon become null and void."

Swiss Paper Asks Whether Stalin Dead

Bern, Switzerland, Jan. 8 (AP)—Der Bund published today a question-mark headline: "Stalin Dead?"

Der Bund said that according to information reaching Bern "there is a serious background to these reports" of Stalin's "death, and that the rumor was "the topic of the day in Moscow."

Der Bund has close relations with the Swiss federal government.

In London, spokesmen for the Soviet embassy and the official Soviet news agency, TASS, described the report as "non-sense."

Last week the Swedish press, without citing any authority, speculated that Stalin had cancer. Dr. Elis Berven, Stockholm cancer specialist, made a hurried trip to Moscow at the week-end. He said four Russian doctors asked him to come to Moscow for consultations, but he did not know who his patient was.

leaved. None of them were civil service employees, Superintendent Ernest A. Steuding said.

Greeks Order Rifles, Bullets To Arm Their National Guard

By DMITRI TRAVLOS

Athens, Jan. 8 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William G. Livesay, chief of the U. S. military mission in Greece, disclosed today that the Greek government has ordered 40,000 rifles and necessary ammunition from England to arm an augmented national guard.

The cost, amounting to $3,000,000, will be paid from frozen foreign exchange of Greek citizens in Britain, he said.

The United States, through its aid mission, approved an increase in the size of the national guard earlier this week from 20,000 men to 50,000 men. The army is to be increased from 120,000 to 132,000 men and freed of its security duties in order to concentrate on seeking out and attacking Communist guerrillas.

Gen. Livesay told a news conference he had been making a study of the situation and actions of the Greek army for six months. "All I've seen," he said, "indicates the Greek soldier is good and can defeat the bandits. This has been confirmed at Metsovo recently and now at Konitsa."

Queen Frederika reached Konitsa yesterday and received an ovation from the Greek army garrison which withstood a week-long attempt by the rebels to seize the town as a capital for a Greek Communist state. She brought the congratulations of the king, who is ill.

Two More Arrests Made For Thefts From Trucks

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—Gustave Golden, 45-year-old cloth merchant, of 181-28 Midland Parkway, Jamaica Estates, Queens, and his brother Oscar, 39, 69 Desmond avenue, Bronxville, N. Y., salesman employed by Gustave, were booked last night on charges of criminally receiving stolen goods, after an investigation conducted by police and the district attorney's office into a series of truck robberies during the past several months.

Thirteen arrests had been made in the case previously.

Acting Captain Raymond McGuire of the Safe and Loft Squad said that the 15 prisoners were members of a gang which stole and handled loot, the value of which may reach a quarter of a million dollars.

Settlement Made In Johnston Case

A settlement was arrived at Wednesday in the negligence action brought by Mrs. Katie E. Johnston of Saugerties, executive, etc., of the estate of Odell F. Johnston, against United Baking Company, Inc., and William Van Derbeck. The adjustment came after a conference between counsel when the case had been partially tried.

Settlement was announced by Justice Francis Bergan who is presiding at Supreme Court here.

Odell F. Johnston was fatally injured on "Thanksgiving day 1948 at the corner of Main and Market streets, Saugerties, while crossing the road.

Following settlement of the action Justice Bergan recessed the court until today, after excusing the jurors who had been drawn to hear the testimony.

It was with interest that local people read the account of how Accord received its name in the latest issue of a rural farm paper. This section is frequently called Accord since it is served by the rural delivery of that town. For a number of years, in fact as long as this correspondent (Mrs. J. E. Burger) can remember, the rural carrier work has been efficiently carried on by Percy W. Gazley and his assistant, Ira Clearwater, both of Accord. It is during winters such as this one that the appearance of the faithful mail carrier is one of the few bright spots of a rural inhabitant's day.

night with a message addressed to all who favor continuance of the Fairview-Lucas avenue bus.

His request is that those who want the bus address a penny postcard to him worded: "We want this bus line continued permanently." Those who write must sign their names so that a petition can be prepared for presentation to the mayor, Common Council and State Public Service Commission.

The cards are to be addressed to James E. Martin, 10 Hurley avenue, Kingston, N. Y.

In the ad, Alderman Martin stressed: "I urge you to do this at once. I will save you attending a public hearing during those bad weather conditions and with no late evening bus service, making your appearance most difficult."

As your alderman I will do my best to keep this bus line running."

The Kingston City Transportation Corporation in announcing it would discontinue service on the line explained that it has been criticized by the Public Service Commission for having continued the operation beyond the period previously authorized. "Under the circumstances we do not feel that we can continue operations over this line after January 15, since such operations would be in violation of the order of the P.S.C.," the corporation wrote.

dona company, and Wallkill covered for Gardiner.

Capacity 90,000 Bushels

By morning today the entire roof and upper story had been burned off the cold storage plant, which is a two and one-half story frame building with a capacity of 90,000 bushels. The upper stories were used for the storage of crates, which were consumed by the fire.

One wing of the building, recently added and constructed of concrete blocks, was not damaged. Machinery and two gas storage rooms also escaped damage, according to the Hurds.

Three trucks and one tractor were saved from damage when they were driven from the building by an employee, William Coy, according to Melvin Hurd. Coy had been attending chur practice at a nearby church when the fire broke out, his neighbors said.

The Clintondale department drew water from a 55,000 gallon swimming pool about 100 feet from the fire. The Highland department, under the direction of Chief William Maynard, joined Clintondale at the pool, and together placed three hose lines to the fire.

The Gardiner pumper, under Chief Lawson Upright, was placed at a pond 1,500 feet from the fire and pumped one line direct to the pool which was used as a reservoir for the Clintondale and Highland departments.

New Paltz, directed by Chief George Eckert, drafted water from this same pond and laid a line to the Modena department, which relayed it directly to the fire. Fire Chief Burton Ward was in charge of the Modena company.

All departments remained all night, with the New Paltz company reporting back to their station about 5 a. m. Other companies were still at the scene at 10 a. m. today replenishing the water in the reservoir and checking the smoldering portions of the building.

In the south corner of the building were several ammonia tanks, which firemen kept under a stream of water to prevent them from becoming heated.

Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company sent a crew from their Poughkeepsie office to disconnect the 440 volt circuits which led into the plant.

Cause of the fire is as yet undetermined. Chief Rhodes of Clintondale, who was in charge of the entire operation, said:

Mrs. Melvin Hurd supplied the firemen with hot coffee and cookies during the night.

He traveled widely in Europe and was noted for his knowledge of ceramics and other art objects. He became chairman of the board in 1932. His widow, a sister, and two daughters survive.

He was arrested Wednesday morning by Patrolmen Gerald Every and Edward Leonard following an automobile accident on Albany avenue, police said, resulted in injuries to Walter Thorpe of South Coventry, Conn. Thorpe, who was taken to Kingston Hospital, was discharged this morning.

Rethier Sues Roosa

struck in the face and head and knocked to the ground where it is alleged Roosa "kicked" Rethier with high heeled "cowboy" boots which he was wearing. Rethier came to and drove to the Lake Katrine State Police station and there was taken to the Benedictine Hospital where he remained four days before leaving. Plaintiff claims the assault was unprovoked.

In his opening to the jury, N. LeVan Haver, counsel for Roosa, said there had been "bad feeling" between the two for some time and that Rethier had threatened to "get" Roosa. He said it would be shown that Rethier had taken an instrument, not long before March 18, 1947, and pounded a table or bar with such violence that a dent was left in the wood, and that Rethier had then said he would do the same to Roosa. The defendant claims he had avoided Rethier for some time because of the ill-feeling and because he was "afraid to meet him," for fear of "his life."

Haver told the jury that the attack was commenced by the plaintiff and that Roosa "defended himself" since he knew that the plaintiff had a "weapon." Roosa charges that Rethier was the aggressor and that the plaintiff attacked him first, kicked him in the groin and provoked the fight and kept up a "running battle" from which Roosa protected himself.

The jury was selected and the opening remarks were concluded just before the noon recess.

Jurors not on the case were excused until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Settlement was announced in No. 191, Fred Lanzini against Culver Bull, a negligence action and No. 248, Harry Bull and another against Fred Lanzini.

Reports Car Hit

Sidney Dobbins, 56, of Rifton reported to the State Police at Highland, Wednesday, that his auto was struck in the rear on Route 9W near Marlborough, Tuesday, by a truck owned by James VanVleet & Son Inc., of Marlborough, and operated by James VanVleet. According to the report, the Dobbins car had stopped on the highway and the other vehicle, collided with it. Dobbins said his car was damaged, but no injuries were reported.

Super-Recoveries Reported

Franklin, Pa., Jan. 8 (AP)—City councilmen started scratching their heads on looking over the 1947 report of Police Chief F. M. Sheffer. Among the figures were: "Automobiles stolen, 23; recovered, 25." "Bicycles stolen, 11; recovered, 12." But then Sheffer explained the "super-recoveries" were a holdover from December, 1946, a bookkeeping practice followed by his department.

Louis Signs to Box

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—Joe Louis signed today with the Twentieth Century Sporting Club to defend his heavyweight title against Jersey Joe Walcott or any other opponent mutually agreeable to the champion and promoter "about June 23" at a site to be determined later.

Gildersleeve Will Be on Ballot With Fowler for Office

Ray J. Dunn, executive secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, announced today that final compilation of ballots in yesterday's Chamber election for nominees to be voted upon in the forthcoming election for membership on the board of directors reveals that F. C. Gildersleeve, of the A. H. Gildersleeve Company, and Eugene H. Fowler, Fowler's Hardware, received an equal number of votes, and as a result the names of both will appear on the election ballot.

The chamber executive also said that the name of Frederick J. K. Ertel, of Ertel Engineering Company, was inadvertently omitted by him from the list of successful nominees made public yesterday afternoon. Others named are George W. Schneider, Al Schmid, Adrian Kaplan, John H. Haulenbeck, Clifford Rose, Elmer Ryance, Herbert Siller, John VanGonsie, Edward T. Strong, A. B. Shufeldt, Edward Remmert and Edwin L. Davey. The seven receiving the highest number of votes will serve as directors.

James H. Betts is chairman of the elections committee, which will prepare the election ballot for submission to the members in time to permit announcement of the new members of the directorate by January 31. Others serving on the committee are Louis Netter, Bert Bishop, Harry Rigby, Jr., and James L. Rowe.

Indication of a strong working agreement between City Hall and the Chamber was seen in the report today that Louis B. Steketee, acting president of the Chamber, and Dunn have already been in conference with Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and pledged mutual effort in advancing a program designed to promote the advantages of the city and surrounding areas.

The convention bureau at the chamber is already at work assisting in housing preparations for the Horticultural Society Convention visitors, to be held here January 28, 29 and 30.

Farley Will Address C. of C. On January 24

James A. Farley, former postmaster general and Democratic national chairman, will be the speaker at the annual dinner of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, which will be held Saturday evening, January 24, at 6:30 o'clock.

Raymond W. Garraghan, chairman of the speakers' committee, and a close friend of Mr. Farley's, announced the date today. The place for the annual dinner has not been announced.

Maine is called the Pine Tree State.

The President asked that business taxes be boosted $3,200,000, 000 to keep federal revenues at their present levels despite the proposed income tax slash.

Rep. Keen (R.-N. J.) commented to reporters that "the average voter has no great sympathy for an innumerate corporation, and Taft asserted, 'It's smart politics, I guess, if it is smart to be smart.'"

The Ohioan is expected to reiterate Republican opposition to the compulsory price-wage and rationing controls for which Mr. Truman asked indirectly in a 43-minute message received by the lawmakers yesterday in a silence broken only six times by scattered applause.

In the first 25 minutes, while he was discussing the social welfare legislation he said Congress should enact to elevate living standards at home, there "wasn't a single hand-clap from his listeners. He first broke the ice when he promised to enforce the Taft-Hartley Labor Act despite his dislike for it."

Rep. Robinson (R.-Ky.) said the message got "the coldest reception of any I've heard in nearly 25 years."

The President's proposals for such social welfare legislation as national health insurance touched off Republican contentions that he is attempting to "out New Deal, the New Deal," as Senator Jenner (Ind.) put it.

House speaker Martin (Mass.) commented that "the Left Wing of the Democratic party must have prompted the message."

And Senator Ball (R.-Minn.), asserting that Mr. Truman's program "sounds like one for a managed economy and socialization of America," added:

"I can't figure out why this administration has been getting along with Soviet Russia. They seem to want to take this country in the direction Soviet Russia is going as fast as possible."

Even a Democrat, Rep. Whitten (Miss.) said he considers the message "rather to the left," but Mr. Truman's proposals were stoutly defended by many of his party members besides McGrath.

Led by Rep. Halleck, House majority leader, Republicans chorused that the President had attempted to "appease" Henry Wallace. Halleck said the message was "a purely political document designed to out-Wallace Wallace and hold for Mr. Truman the radical wing that controls the Democratic party."

In this connection, Senator Taylor (D-Idaho), who has been thinking about running with Wallace on a third party ticket, said he will "fight tooth and toenail to obtain Congressional enactment of the President's excellent domestic program."

"However," Taylor added, "his statement did nothing to allay my deep fears that his foreign policy, which is also the Republican party's foreign policy, is leading us to war."

It was primarily on the foreign policy issue that Wallace made his break with the Democrats and announced as an independent candidate for president.

Kingston Local Backs Blumberg's Third Party Stand

Kingston Local 186, of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America are fully in accord with the resignation of Hyman Blumberg as state chairman of the American Labor Party, Mrs. Mabel Fisher, business agent of the local, said today.

Blumberg, who is executive vice-chairman of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union, split with the A. L. P. over the third party issue. He said that a third party this year "must inevitably play into the hands of labor's enemies."

Following Blumberg's resignation on Wednesday, the executive committee of the American Labor Party adopted a resolution endorsing the third party candidacy of Henry A. Wallace for the presidency.

Mrs. Fisher said that leaders of locals in the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union in a meeting on Tuesday in New York City had unanimously directed this action on the part of Blumberg. She attended the meeting as a delegate from Kingston Local 186.

Mrs. Fisher said she believes that the members of the Kingston local who have been interested in the A. L. P. feel very much in accord with the union's action. She indicated that members of the local who are active in the county committee of the American Labor Party will probably resign from that committee.

100-Year Landmark Destroyed by Fire

Cincinnati, Jan. 8 (AP)—Central Turner Hall, 100 years old and once a mecca of night and social life in Cincinnati, was gutted by fire early today.

Fire Chief Barney J. Houston estimated the damage at $100,000. Flames destroyed the roof, attic, fourth floor and ten bowling alleys.

Twenty-two families living in apartments nearby were routed from their beds as flames shot more than a hundred feet into the air from the building which once was used to train and house soldiers during the Civil War. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Dealers Are Told More Feed Value In Hybrid Corn

More widespread use of hybrid corn was stressed at a regional meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday of feed dealers and other handlers of seed and fertilizers.

Recent development of new varieties was reported and explained and a maturity-guide chart discussed. The feeding value runs higher in hybrid corn, the dealers were told, and growers have their choice of from eight to 10 varieties.

Effects of planting practices were explained and growers were advised to be more mindful of "plants per acre" than the quarts or pecks of seeds used. The kernels on most hybrid corn are smaller, and it is estimated that from 12,000 to 15,000 plants per acre give the best yield.

Increased interest in feeds was emphasized because of the current high prices and the two speakers were Prof. S. R. Aldrich, agronomy department, and Prof. A. H. Johnson, plant-breeding department, New York State College of Agriculture.

Seeding mixtures were discussed and a variety of oats and wheat recommended including the type of oats known as Mohawk. Emphasis was placed on the use of basic ratios in the use of fertilizers and the standard table was explained.

There's the ball that the players toss high in the air... there's the ball where you dance, a formal affair. Clearly, ball is a word that can fool you.

But not Ballantine! There's a word that never fooled anybody. Ballantine always means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR... the famous "3-ring" qualities. Look for the 3 rings... call for Ballantine.

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—The record snowfall of December 26 cost the Long Island railroad $1,000,000 in "increased operating costs alone," J. C. White, vice-president of the line, said yesterday. White made the disclosure in a letter thanking the railroad's employees for their "untiring and unselfish" work during the emergency caused by the storm. He said the $1,000,000 addition to normal operating costs did not include freight and passenger traffic losses.

Parents Receive Son's Medal

Presentation of the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device was made posthumously Monday to the parents of Staff Sgt. Edwin Burgher in recognition of heroism performed with the 42nd (Rainbow) Division during World War 2. Major Joseph E. Conklin, left, hands the medal to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Burgher, Sr., of 63 Lafayette avenue, as Mrs. Julius Martini, a friend of the family, and Capt. William Heffernan of Stewart Field observe the ceremony. The event took place in the office of the Army and Air Force Recruiting Service in the central post office. The citation worded by Sgt. Burgher's commanding officer, said in part: "When one of the automatic riflemen was killed, he picked up the weapon and placed an effective neutralizing fire on the enemy until a sudden concentration of machinegun fire wounded him fatally. Sgt. Burgher's indomitable courage and aggressiveness reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Army."

Westchester to Get Fuel Service Back

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—Fuel deliveries were scheduled to be resumed in suburban Westchester county today where some 50,000 consumers have been without service since Tuesday because of a labor-management dispute.

Charles T. Douds, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, announced late last night that the Westchester Allied Trades Association and Local 456 of the A.F.L. International Brotherhood of Teamsters had agreed to end the stoppage resulting from a drivers' strike against one member firm. The Association comprises 29 coal and fuel oil firms. Douds said John Acropolis, local president, had assured Dr. William Holla, Westchester health commissioner, that union drivers would report for work today. The local called a strike against the Pelham Coal and Oil Co. of Pelham Manor Monday in a dispute which union officials said involved closed shop contract provisions. The association filed an unfair labor practice complaint with the N.L.R.B. after ordering drivers for other members firms not to report for work. Big Vote for Al-Molk Tehran, Iran, Jan. 8 (AP)—Premier Ibrahim Hakim Al-Molk won Spiced prune cake carries sweet nourishment.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
N.E.A. Staff Writer

For a winter dessert that carries in its sweet embrace lots of nourishment, plus reasonable cost, try this new prune cake recipe. It keeps well.

Spiced Prune Cake

(Serves 16)

Cream shortening: gradually beat in granulated sugar. Add eggs and beat thoroughly. Sift together flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, baking powder, baking soda, and spices; add to shortening mixture alternately with 1/2 cup cold coffee. Stir prunes and nuts into batter. Pour into well-greased heat-resistant glass square cake dish.

Benedictine Sisters

Express Gratitude

The Benedictine Sisters express sincere appreciation to their many friends who so generously contributed in spreading Christmas cheer throughout the hospital at Christmas.

As in former years, the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital devoted much time to the decorating of the reception hall and the trimming of trees in the corridors and wards of the hospital.

The merchants were most generous and many friends contributed an abundance of poinsettias and other flowers that made the chapel and hospital a scene of beauty for the holidays.

Through the generosity of Leon... ard H. Stine, director of the A Cappella Choir of the Kingston High School, former pupils now attending various colleges, but home for the holidays sang the beautiful Christmas carols on Christmas Eve. The singing of carols by the Girl Scouts was also appreciated.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not stain. Cheesier, pink color (denture breath). Get FASTETH at any drug store.

Good Taste Today

Good Taste—Emily Post Head

FAMILIARITY RESULTS IN ACCEPTANCE

No question is more difficult to answer than the following one from a young girl who writes: "I have a girl friend of whom I am especially fond and feel sorry for, because several members of her family have bad reputations. My parents are insisting that I give this girl up because they say soon I will be judged by the company I keep. The girl herself has fine character and I think it is unfair of my parents to insist that I make her suffer for what is not her fault. Don't you think she should be taken at her own value instead of that of her family?"

While everyone will agree with the sentiments that you express, it has to be said that there is danger in your becoming tolerant of her family's behavior. If other words, see her in your own house rather than in hers.

Standing at Head of Receiving Line

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been chosen by a committee to stand first in a receiving line to greet members and guests of a club at an evening reception. This is not a very formal town, but even so, I am wondering what I say to each one who comes up. Am I supposed to repeat the names of the people I know to the person standing next to me and what do I say to the people who are strangers to me? This is all very confusing.

Answer: It is not necessary to say anything except "How do you do" or "Good evening" or to greet a friend with "I'm so glad to see you" or "I'm so glad you could come." The newcomer then is greeted by the person next to you, who does not need to have the stranger introduced to her. If the reception is very large and general you probably would have a professional announcer announce each name to you. You then would repeat this name to the person next in line, but you can't possibly be expected to know the names of many strangers.

"Rev." Should Not Prefix Written Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: How should a clergyman and his wife sign personal notes and greeting cards to members of his congregation?

Answer: If the wife signs, she signs John and Mary Saintly as all other wives do. In case the clergyman signs the cards, he also signs John and Mary Saintly instead of Mary and John Saintly as the laity should do.

Is it proper to wear veils in the evening? This is one of the 35 questions answered in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-18, "An Etiquette Test." To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, care The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. # Frank Leahy Predicts Another Great Irish Squad This Season

Lauds Michigan and Coach Crisler; 350 Attendance Sets K.A.A. Record

The 1948 Notre Dame football team will be one of the greatest in Irish history and he never saw a better college squad than the 1947 Fighting Irish eleven, Head Coach Frank Leahy told 350 members of the Kingston Athletic Association at The Barn.

A masterful orator, the famous Irish mentor who is generally regarded as the No. 1 man in football coaching completely captivated the largest crowd ever to attend a K.A.A. function with his warm, friendly attitude, his football philosophy and his willingness to give credit where credit was due.

The huge crowd which jam-packed The Barn had its anxious moments early in the evening when Coach Leahy failed to arrive on time. The dinner was served while K.A.A. officials paced frantically up and down and Dick McCarthy, the master of ceremonies and chairman of the arrangements committee, held a death watch at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Mr. Leahy, who drove up from New York, arrived about 45 minutes late.

Introduced by the Rev. Father Henry E. Herdgen of St. Peter's in a speech of sheer rhetorical brilliance, Coach Leahy said that the 1947 Notre Dame squad was only an average aggregation at the start of the season, was victimized by high pressure publicity but found itself in mid-season and became the first Irish squad since 1931 to finish a season, undefeated and untied.

Speaking of Michigan, Leahy paid a sincere tribute to the man generally regarded as his closest rival in coaching brilliance—Fritz Crisler. "As a coach Fritz Crisler is second to none," he said. "Michigan had great material, a great coach and a great spirit. That's a hard combination to beat, but as I have said before Notre Dame would have welcomed the opportunity to meet Michigan on the gridiron."

Leahy predicted that Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame's All-American quarterback would achieve all-time stardom in the professional ranks. "It is my opinion," the Irish mentor said, "that Johnny Lujack will develop into one of the greatest professional players in the history of football. I honestly believe he will surpass all existing records."

Leahy further praised Lujack as an All-American on and off the football field declaring that: "Notre Dame has never had a better athlete or a better man on its campus. He is a modest, wholesome, clean-living, clean-talking, scholastically brilliant youngster, totally unspoiled and devoted to his father and mother and his school."

To measure with Army Regarding Army-Notre Dame relations, Leahy predicted that the two schools that formerly staged the No. 1 football game in America would resume relations in the not too distant future on a home and home basis.

Asked if he intended to quit Notre Dame to enter the professional ranks, Leahy answered that he considered it an honor and privilege to serve as Notre Dame football coach.

"I feel it is the highest honor that can be paid a man when his Alma Mater invites him to serve as its football coach," Leahy said with intense feeling. "I hope to remain at Notre Dame as long as I am qualified to carry on its fine traditions and as long as I am not harmful to the school," he added.

Overcame Pressure Leahy described the 1947 Irish as only an average aggregation.

The Master Coach Speaks

FRANK LEAHY

This excellent shot of the Notre Dame football coach was snapped by Ken Roosa, Freeman photographer, as Mr. Leahy addressed 350 members of the Kingston Athletic Association last night at The Barn. In a heart-warming, inspiring speech, Leahy predicted that the Fighting Irish will be stronger than ever in 1948.

said the team which had held mightily Army to 0-0 tie in 1946 victimized by high-powered publicity and it required hard work to bring it to its real peak.

The Notre Dame coach surprised his audience when he said: "The 1947 squad was never really tested and it was the only team I have ever coached that never was behind in any ball game."

Feigning the gloom for which he is famous, Leahy soberly told his audience that "Our team will be pretty hard to beat in 1948 and the listeners promptly rocked the Barn with cheer."

He said Notre Dame would uncover a great back in Ernie Zalejski next fall. Zalejski was ineligible this season but midwestern football observers long have regarded him as the greatest of the Notre Dame backs. Emil Sitko will be back and Frank Tripucka probably will succeed Lujack as first string quarterback.

The McGee Story Leahy singled out Coy McGee, 150-pound seahawk from Texas, as a youngster who typified the Notre Dame spirit. McGee, he said, had been cut from the football squad of a small college in the southwest before the war. Too small, they told him.

After serving in the Army where he rose to the rank of captain, McGee applied for admission to Notre Dame having been overwhelmed by the Notre Dame talk around the world.

When McGee asked permission to try out for the football team nobody at Notre Dame was greatly impressed, Leahy said, and the equipment manager found it difficult to equip the 5 foot 7 inch youth who wore a size 5 shoe.

McGee's spirit never flinched, however and eventually he made the grade against the greatest competition on any college campus

Lujack to Join Bears or Rockets

Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame's two-time All-American quarterback, will play professional football with either the Chicago Bears or Chicago Rockets next fall, Coach Leahy told reporters last night.

Leahy also informed the K.A.A. audience that Lujack is signed to make two motion pictures this year.

In the United States, and in the last two games of 1946, McGee proved one of the best ball carriers Notre Dame has ever had.

Mayor Newark Speaks Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said Kingston was proud to have such a distinguished football figure visit the city. He praised the Kingston Athletic Association for the excellent job it has done in promotion of sports for youth and lauded it for the fine program it has arranged for 1948.

He pledged his support to any movement which would make Kingston a greater and happier community.

The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick of the Evangelical Lutheran Church gave the benediction. Seated at the speaker's table besides Coach Leahy and Mayor Newkirk were County Judge John M. Cashin, Charles J. Tiano, president of the K. A. A.; District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, vice president; Sam Moss, treasurer; Palmer Brodhead, secretary; the Rev. Father Herdgen; the Rev. Frank Gollnick; Dick McCarthy; Paul Cox, of Chicago and Tom Davitt.

Toastmaster McCarthy introduced several football coaches of the area, including Coaches G. Warren Kias, Willard Burke and Russ Cunningham of Kingston.

Dr. Francis O'Connor, one of the founders of the K. A. A. also was introduced. Bill Lohman, former New York Giant pitcher, attended as guest of Dr. O'Connor and Bullett Bob Hansen, sensational Central Valley High School pitching star signed by the New York Giants last fall attended as guest of Frank "Bing" Van Etten.

Kids Overwhelmed By Leahy's Speech

Frank Leahy's dynamic personality thrilled the men at last night's K.A.A. banquet but the most inspiring sight of all was created by a few fortunate, bright-eyed, eager-faced youngsters who sat spellbound as Coach Leahy spoke and while he commented on the heroics of Lujack, Brennan, Sitko et al during the Notre Dame talk.

The warm, human side of the cold, calculating football mentor, was in evidence when he graciously consented to accommodate more than 100 autograph seekers.

He took particular interest in the kids and asked each one his full name, if he had any brothers and sisters and if he liked sports.

Dismissing during his speech, Leahy said to the youngsters: "If at the end of every day you can tell your father and mother everything you did that day then you are living the life of a real boy."

Stirnweiss Okays Terms With Yanks

The Yankees continued to hold the pre-season baseball spotlight among the three New York ball clubs today with the announcement that George "Snuffy" Stirnweiss had agreed to terms, the third regular to sign on the dotted line this week, it was revealed this morning.

Although Stirnweiss' salary wasn't disclosed, it was estimated that the second sacker will receive something in the neighborhood of $14,500.

Earlier this week Tommy Henrich and Joe DiMaggio were in New York and after short discussions with George Weiss, general manager, also agreed to terms for the 1948 season.

Immediately after signing yesterday, Stirnweiss departed for Bartow, Fla., where he'll open his second annual baseball school on Friday.

Blackwell Signed Meanwhile in Cincinnati, the Reds announced the signing of their ace right-hander, Ewell Blackwell for terms between $20,000 and $25,000 which results in a substantial pay boost.

The Reds also announced the signing of Bobby Adams, infielder, and Harry Perkowski, left-hander who was 17 and lost 12 with the Columbia team of the South Atlantic League in 1947.

Dark Horses Are Favorites in 21st Dixie Tennis Play

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 8 (P)—Favorites in the 21st annual Dixie Tennis Tournament today were eyeing two dark horses who yesterday eliminated a pair of the eight seeded players, Sidney Schwartz, national indoor champion from Brooklyn and Tom Burke of Rigo Park, N. Y.

Schwartz, seeded No. 6 was outplayed by Enrique Buse, Peruvian champion attending Rollins College, 1-6, 6-0, 6-3 in a third round encounter.

Burke dropped a second round match to Steve Colson of Tampa 6-4, 6-3. He was unable to match the Tampan's lightning backhand and lightning spirit.

Today's feature matches pit Gardiner Larned, No. 2 of Chicago against Colhoun Dixon of Tampa, and Buddy Behrens, No. 3, of Fort Lauderdale against Bruce Johnson of Miami.

Magda Rurac of Romania defeated Mrs. Ann Gray of Washington 7-5, 6-4, in the yesterday's only women's match.

grants to athletes under certain conditions and allows institutions to contact players as long as they keep their sales talk within catalogued bounds.

The proposal will be made before the entire N.C.A.A. membership on Saturday.

The group also upheld the T-formation quarterback eligible for a pass when he's not a yard behind the line of scrimmage.

Two minor alterations in the rules were proposed, however, including:

1—After a second successive out of bounds kickoff, the ball goes to the receiving team 10 yards in front of the kick instead of on the kicker's 40;

2—When a player is injured after the fourth time out in a half, only the injured player can be substituted for without a penalty.

Meanwhile, the National Collegiate Athletic Association's "sanity code," a group of proposed constitutional amendments designed to curb athletic subsidization, faced scattered opinions of its worth.

"You can't enforce it," one prominent coach said. "Many will vote for the code while figuring out ways to beat it."

Carl Snavely, coach of North Carolina, and former Cornell coach, said, "I am sure you will see a lot of poor boys going to college because they are good half-backs," in a statement which carried out the cynical view in which some mentors asserted that the code would do little to purify college athletics.

The code permits, the A.P. said,

Westrum Voted Top Athlete in Dutchess County

Ex-Rec Player Named by Jury Of 12 Recently

Wesley "Wes" Westrum, former Kingston Recreation catcher, who will report to the New York Giants spring training camp in Phoenix, Ariz., next March, has been named the most outstanding athlete of Dutchess county in 1947 as a result of the second annual Poughkeepsie New Yorker poll. It was announced today.

Westrum collected seven firsts, three seconds and two thirds after the initial voting which was narrowed down to a field of three including the Giant prospect, Stan Bloomer, ace pitcher of Fordham University's football team and Ed Donohue, three-letter athlete of Poughkeepsie High School.

The former local player, who performed at the municipal stadium last fall, was named champion of champions by a jury of 12 which met recently in the Poughkeepsie court house to consider the list of nominations made by the sports fans of the Dutchess county area.

A. A. Graduate Westrum, whom New York scribes believe has an excellent chance of becoming the number two catcher for Mel Ott's Polo Grounds during 1948, wound up a terrific season in the American Association last season when he performed with the Minneapolis club.

He batted .294 and connected for 22 home runs during the regular campaign and added three more all the way through in the post-season playoffs. Further glory was added when he was named catcher on the loop's all-star club.

Reporting to the Giants near the end of the 1947 campaign Westrum fitted in nicely with Mel Ott's fence-busters although he didn't wallop any out of the park. He caught two complete games and went in as a pinch-hitter on three occasions. He wound up with five bingles in 11 trips to the plate.

Bowling

FINAL WARNING—The Freeman sports department has repeatedly warned bowling captains that scores must be delivered to the downtown office no later than 9 a. m., the day following the night of the league matches.

Also captains have been warned against submitting incorrectly tallied, incomplete scoresheets and poor carbon copies. All names must be legible to insure publication.

A few leagues have shown a tendency to violate these rules by submitting scores a day and a half late. No further violations of these rules will be permitted.

Get your entries in early for the 12th annual Kingston Bowling Association city championships. The deadline for entries is midnight, Saturday, January 17, but it's the early bird who gets the choice hours on the schedule.

Gunman Is Trapped
As He Takes Wrong Door

Chicago, Jan. 8 (AP)—The one big mistake a youthful gunman made in his otherwise business-like hold-up of a south Chicago tavern last night landed him in a hospital with serious injuries.

Waving a pistol he barged into the saloon at 9818 Ewing avenue and lined up Bartender Joseph Di Carlo and four customers at the bar. After robbing them of a total of $29 he forced the five to lie on the floor.

In fleeing, the gunman made the mistake of opening the wrong door—and he entered the washroom instead of going outside. When he emerged the five men, armed with bottles, a bar stool and other weapons, seized and beat him. During the melee he was stabbed over the heart with an ice pick.

The gunman, under guard at the Cook county jail hospital, was identified by police as John Cuklin, 24. They said his gun was not loaded. No charge was made against him immediately.

The so-called "heart" of a tree is really dead.

Guild Schedules Busy Program for Winter and Spring

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—Beginning Tuesday evening, January 20, the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen will hold weekly meetings for those interested in the theories of arts and crafts. The meetings will be in the form of open discussions and will be under the direction of Beatrice Gazzolo, educational director at the Guild. It is Miss Gazzolo's idea to have a prominent speaker each week, whose talk will precede the discussion period. Said Miss Gazzolo, "I am hoping people will come to these informal meetings which will be held every Tuesday night at the Guild Centre so that they may learn the terminology generally used in the arts and crafts fields as well as become aware of what is happening in the hand, industrial and fine arts." The meetings will be open to the public and a small admission will be charged.

Another new idea for the winter and spring months will be the use of the shop for advanced students in the crafts. The shop will be open every Thursday evening from 7 o'clock until 9:30. A minimum fee will be charged for the use of tools in the shop. No enrollment will be required and those qualifying may come every week or not as they desire.

Every Friday morning from 10:30 until 12:30, beginning on January 23, Miss Gazzolo will conduct a class in color and design. This will include construction problems in design for the arts and crafts and will be of great benefit to all craftsmen regardless of the materials they prefer working with.

It has also been announced that Edward Chavez will offer four advanced demonstrations on modern jewelry making, showing his new and original methods. These demonstrations will be in the nature of intensive lessons to advanced students and craftsmen and will be given Fridays, beginning January 23.

Other courses for the winter and spring months will include instruction by Mary Townley in woodcarving on Monday afternoons beginning January 19, from 3:30 to 5:30; and metal work for beginners on Tuesday afternoons from 3:30 to 5:30, beginning January 20. Martin and Jo Steffanson will instruct in leather work on Thursdays from 3:30 to 5:30, beginning January 22, and Floyd LaVigne will give lessons to beginners in weaving on Monday mornings from 10:30 to 12:30. For the advanced students in weaving a special arrangement has been made whereby the student may rent a loom for $5 per week and receive instruction as required.

Thomas Penning will return from Florida the latter part of January and beginning in February conduct a class for beginners who wish to learn the fundamental principles of working in stone with tools adapted to the beginner. Many men and women are planning to take advantage of this to learn a craft using material native to Ulster county.

Miss Gazzolo has stated that while the schedule for classes has been arranged, if the hours selected are not convenient for the majority of persons who would like to enroll for the work at the Guild, the time can be changed, if prospective students will make their wishes known to her. All classes at the Guild are completely free.

Sportsmen to Meet

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—The Woodstock Fish and Game club will hold its regular meeting Monday night, January 12, at 8 o'clock in the Town Clerk's office.

Rigby to Talk

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—Harry Rigby, Jr., vice-president and general manager of the Kingston Coal Company, will be the guest speaker when the Masonic Square Club meets in their Woodstock rooms Thursday evening, January 22. Mr. Rigby will discuss the association of coal and the atomic bomb.

Dog Licenses Are Due; Deadline Is February 19

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—Grant Flynn, town clerk, called attention to dog owners that licenses are now due. There are approximately 400 dogs registered in the Town of Woodstock. The deadline for obtaining these licenses is February 19. After that date, a $10 fine is added to the cost of the license, which is $2.25 for male dogs, $2.25 for spayed female dogs, and $5.25 for female dogs. It has been customary in the past for Dave Meyer, dog warden, to distribute cards to owners of dogs but this service has been discontinued due to weather conditions.

The town clerk's office is open daily, except Sundays, from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m., when the licenses may be secured.

Will Make Debut

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—Madame Jacqueline Meneault, first introduced in these columns to music lovers in this country upon her arrival in Woodstock from France last summer, will make her debut as piano soloist with the National Orchestra Association Wednesday afternoon, January 14, over radio station WYNC. Leon Barzin, former Woodstocker, will direct the orchestra.

Board to Meet

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—The Woodstock Town Board will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday evening, January 9 at 8 o'clock in the town clerk's office.

Nadeau to End Broadcasts Due to New Engagements

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—Because of the ever increasing number of engagements in and around New York city, Raoul Nadeau, nationally prominent baritone, has had to discontinue his weekly broadcasts over WKNY. Mr. and Mrs. Nadeau with their young daughter will leave Woodstock Friday and take up residence, for the winter months at least, in New York city. Among other current concerts to be given by Mr. Nadeau, are four to be broadcast from Montreal, Canada, the latter part of this month, and one scheduled for Washington during the month of February. This artist has also for some time been associated with the Rockland County Foundation in Nyack and has recently become conductor of a choral group in that town.

Chavez Receives Tiffany Award; To Tour Mexico

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—Edward Chavez, Woodstock artist, has been awarded the $2,000 Tiffany prize by a New York jury composed of John Taylor Arms, president of the foundation, Horatio Nichols, William J. Fielding, Gifford Beal, Johnston DeForest, and Mrs. Francis DeForest Stewart.

The Tiffany award is a fellowship similar to that of the Guggenheim fellowship, and carries with it the opportunity to paint and study for the next year. It is the intention of Mr. Chavez to continue painting in his Woodstock studio for some months and then go to Mexico for more painting.

Mr. Chavez came to Woodstock following four years service with the U. S. Army in 1945. Other prizes won by this talented artist include a 1947 purchase prize in the Poppy-Cole Paintings of the Year; 1947 European Award in the Lithograph competition of the Associated American Artists; 1947 Albany Print Club Purchase Award. He has exhibited in many national exhibitions, particularly in the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Carnegie Institute, and the Chicago Art Institute. He is represented in the permanent collection of the Museum of Modern Art and the Newark Museum, and has had commissions for Post Office Murals in Geneva, Nebraska; Center, Texas; Glenwood Springs, Colorado; and the West High School in Denver.

Mr. Chavez is also a fine craftsman, particularly well known for unusual jewelry much of which has been exhibited at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, where he also instructed a class in jewelry making last summer.

Murals Finished, Local Woman Will Start Two Others

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—After four months' work, Jennie Magafan, Woodstock artist and talented wife of Edward Chavez, has completed her commission for two murals in the Junior High School, Worcester, Mass. This commission was the result of a national competition held in the spring of last year.

The murals are historical in nature, depicting Jonas Rice, the first settler and teacher in Worcester. The Junior High School is built on the land originally occupied by Jonas Rice. One mural portrays Jonas Rice and his family building their long house, while the second one shows him with his students in the one-room school. Jenny tells us that she has also received a commission to do two more murals in the school next spring but the subject has not yet been announced by the mural committee.

Besides the Worcester murals, Jennie Magafan Chavez has painted murals in postoffice buildings of Utah, Texas, Nebraska, and the Beverly Hills Hotel, Calif., and the Social Security Building, Washington, D. C. She is represented in the Newark Museum and the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center collection. In 1942, Mrs. Chavez won the Ernest Peirto Memorial Mural prize with "Cowboy Dance" which is in the Anson, Texas Post Office; the 1941 prize for the 48-state Mural competition; second award in the Social Security Mural Competition; 1942 winner in the Office of Emergency Management Competition for pictures to record defense and war activities; and the 1934 Carter Memorial Art Prize.

Jennie, who is a member of the Woodstock Artists Association, studied with Frank Mechau, Boardman Robinson, Arnold Blanch, and Peppino Mangravite at the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Centre.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Jerry Jeronimek, who has been convalescing at home following a short period in the Kingston Hospital, will reopen her beauty shop Thursday.

Peter Whitehead left Woodstock a few days ago for California where he will remain for about 10 days.

John McTigue is expected to be home from the Kingston Hospital the latter part of this week. After a period of convalescence he will resume work at the Sea Horse. Dick Stillwell has called the attention to the fact that Johnny is a member of the crew but not a partner.

Wilma Hervey has been ill during the past week but hopes that she will see be well enough to call a meeting of the War Memorial Association when a complete financial report to date will be given to the general committee.

Richard Tauber Dies

London, Jan. 8.—Richard Tauber, 56, noted singer, composer and conductor, died at a London nursing home today. One of the leading tenors of the German-speaking world, Tauber was one of the greatest interpreters of Mozart, and was frequently heard at Salzburg.

Bill Would Exempt Papers From Action

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—Newspapers would not be liable to civil or criminal action for publishing material furnished them by accredited news services, under a bill before the legislature.

The measure was introduced by Senator C. Corey Mills, Brooklyn Republican, at yesterday's opening session. It prohibits legal action against a paper, its owner and employees for printing information supplied by a news agency. The bill would not relieve papers of the responsibility for "slander contained in any other matter added by any person concerned in the publication."

At Mukden Again

Peiping, Jan. 8 (AP)—Renewed Communist attacks in the direction of Mukden were reported by government dispatches today, only a day after a government military spokesman asserted the big Manchurian city was safe from further assault for at least one or two months. The dispatches said fighting had engulfed points within a radius of 25 miles of the city—on the north, west and south.

Early Advertising
Coffee houses in 17th century England sometimes advertised themselves with signs made of ceramic tiles.
